Introduction

Penrose is a place of natural beauty, nature and history, with over 17 miles of footpaths and bridleways of varying degrees of difficulty to explore. Woods, farmland, Loe Bar and its neighbouring coastline surround Loe Pool, Cornwall's largest freshwater natural lake. The Stables Café is located next to the Walled Garden at the centre of the Parkland. There is outdoor gym equipment at various points along the route from Parkland to Loe Bar.

Points to note

- There is a 1.5 mile tarmacked year-round accessible route from Helston Drive, starting at Helston Fairground car park to The Stables Cafe and walled garden.
- Mobile phone reception is good across the countryside but poor at Loe Bar.
- Penrose house and some parts of the gardens remain private and not open to the public.
- There are no mobility vehicles available for hire.
- There is no visitor reception building at Penrose.
- Toilet facilities are next to The Stables café including an accessible toilet. There is no changing places toilet facility. The toilets are open when the café is open.

Arrival & Parking Facilities

Penrose is 2 miles southwest of Helston on the B3304. There are no brown signs.
