Introduction

This medieval courthouse is situated in an idyllic English village location. The ground floor is tenanted and private access only. The upper floor features a public exhibition on village life. There are no parking or toilet facilities at this site.

Dogs Welcome

Only assistance dogs are welcome throughout Long Crendon Courthouse. Unfortunately, due to the nature of the building and the facilities available no other dogs are allowed on site at this time.

Mobile phone reception and Wi-Fi

Mobile phone reception is generally good. There is no wifi available on site, but data coverage is generally good.

Arrival and parking facilities

The building is found along the street on the left as you head towards the church. There are brown signs directing from the surrounding roads.

There is no designated parking on site. Please be mindful of local residents and restrictions when parking along village streets.

Once you reach the building, you will need to climb a set of very steep stairs to access the public space. The ground floor is tenanted and not open to the public. The main entrance door will be propped open during opening hours.

Toilets

There are no toilet facilities available at this site.

Courthouse/exhibition

The exhibition is located inside the main courthouse building and is found on the upper floor. The entrance/exit door is propped open during opening hours.

A very steep set of stairs must be climbed to enter the building, and the steps are uneven and narrow. It is not suitable for pushchairs, wheelchairs or those who suffer from poor balance or reduced mobility.

Inside the courthouse the area is spacious with a good heighted ceiling, and there is lots of natural light in this space.

There is a circulation space of approx. 1m between the display stands and furniture.

The site may sometimes open without any team members on site. Please call the emergency line provided on site if you need assistance urgently.

Catering

There is currently no catering available at this site. Please venture into the local village for food and drink options.
