

National Trust

Holnicote Estate

Holnicote Estate covers 12,500 acres on Exmoor National Park and was donated to the National Trust by Sir Richard Acland in 1944. Holnicote has a contrasting landscape with everything from wild rugged moorland and shingle beaches to ancient woodland and charming thatched villages.

