Cliveden's

Summer of Senses Trail

Follow the yellow line for an extended adventure!

Start here at the Information Centre

Don't forget to snap a photo of your activities in action and tag us on social media using the handles:

There are 5 main ways our human bodies help us make sense of our surroundings. Learn all about them while exploring Cliveden's grounds this summer!

Trail activities change every fortnight (on 4th and 18th August) so you can come back again and again!

I saw...

I heard...

I smelt...

What I learnt about taste...

I felt...

There are no safe tastes for humans on the trail but feel free to try something from our Café or Walled Garden Kiosk – it may well contain something that's been grown here behind the scenes!

What I learnt about some other special senses...

Enjoyed today's adventures? Help us keep them going.
