

Address House

64 Address Road, Annaghmore, Portadown,
County Armagh BT62 1SQ

T 028 8778 4753 F 028 3885 1236 E address@nationaltrust.org.uk

17th-century house with elegant 18th-century decoration and a traditional farmyard

Accessible toilet in reception area

Building 3 steps to entrance. Alternative accessible entrance, at rear of house. 1 wheelchair

Grounds Accessible route – varied terrain

Other features A wide range of tactile experiences especially in the farmyard where there is a large collection of 19th-century and early 20th-century farm equipment. Special 'Tactile Tours' are available on request, booking is essential, please contact the Custodian

The Argory

144 Derrycaw Road, Moy, Dungannon, County Armagh BT71 6NA

T 028 8778 4753 F 028 8778 9598 E argory@nationaltrust.org.uk

Atmospheric Irish gentry house and wooded riverside estate

Parking drop-off point

Accessible toilet in main block

Grounds Map of accessible route

Other features Lots of items including mahogany furniture, listen to the organ and piano, feel the large cast iron decorative stove in the front hall and the lifesize bronze dogs. Special 'Tactile Tours' are available on request, booking is essential, please contact Operations Manager

Carrick-a-Rede

119a Whitepark Road, Ballintoy, County Antrim BT54 6LS

T 028 2076 9839 E carrickarede@nationaltrust.org.uk

Rocky island connected to the cliffs by a rope bridge

Parking designated spaces provided alongside access strip between visitor centre and main path

Grounds Uneven and loose gravel paths, steep slopes, many steps. Map of accessible route. Level access for 450 yards, then a platform with telescopes to view bridge. 1 manual wheelchair

Castle Coole

Enniskillen, County Fermanagh BT74 6JY

T 028 6632 2690 F 028 6632 5665

E castlecoole@nationaltrust.org.uk

Magnificent 18th-century mansion and landscape park

Parking separate parking. Drop-off point

Accessible toilet between shop and tea-room

Building 4 steps to entrance, ramp available. 1 wheelchair

Grounds Loose gravel paths, partly accessible. Map of accessible route

Other features Very fine Neoclassical mansion with excellent Regency furnishings. Also architectural items such as doors, mouldings and carved furniture. A lot of stonework and metal banisters. The basement has not been restored and therefore is very evocative: all the servants' rooms are here including the kitchen and beer cellar and practically everything can be touched. Please contact House Steward

Crom

Upper Lough Erne, Newtownbutler, County Fermanagh BT92 8AP

T 028 6773 8118 E crom@nationaltrust.org.uk

Romantic and tranquil landscape of islands, woodland and historical ruins

Grounds

Parking separate parking, 100 yards

Accessible toilet and shower at visitor centre

Building Ramped entrance.

1 wheelchair, booking essential. Ground floor accessible

Grounds Partly accessible. Access route to Old Castle area.

1 single-seater powered mobility vehicle, booking essential

Other features Deer antlers; stuffed birds; birds' nests, feathers and eggs

Derrymore House

Bessbrook, Newry, County Armagh BT35 7EF

T 028 8778 4753 F 028 8778 9598

E derrymore@nationaltrust.org.uk

Late 18th-century thatched house in gentrified vernacular style

Parking separate parking, 30 yards

Grounds Accessible route. Some visitors may require assistance from their companion

Giant's Causeway

44 Causeway Road, Bushmills, County Antrim BT57 8SU

T 028 2073 1855 (Tourist Information) F 028 2073 2537

E giantscauseway@nationaltrust.org.uk

Famous geological World Heritage Site on the North Antrim Coast

Note Bus (operated by Translink) to stones. During building works temporary toilets at hotel. New visitor facilities opening summer 2012

Parking in car park 1

Accessible toilet new visitor facilities opening in the Summer

Grounds Grass, uneven, narrow, loose and hard gravel paths, steep slopes, many steps, undulating terrain. Map of accessible route. Some visitors may require assistance from their companion

Gray's Printing Press

49 Main Street, Strabane, County Tyrone BT82 8AU

T 028 8674 8210 F 028 8674 8210 E grays@nationaltrust.org.uk

18th-century printing press

Accessible toilet on ground floor

Building Level entrance. Many stairs to other floors

Grounds Courtyard garden – paved

Other features Touchable objects: printing press and type

Mount Stewart House, Garden and Temple of the Winds

Portaferry Road, Newtownards, County Down BT22 2AD

T 028 4278 8387 F 028 4278 8569

E mountstewart@nationaltrust.org.uk

Neo-classical house and celebrated gardens

Grounds

Parking 100 yards. Drop-off point

Accessible toilet at reception area/car park

Building Level entrance. 4 wheelchairs, booking essential. Stairs to other floors

Grounds Loose gravel paths, partly accessible. Map of accessible route. 3 single-seater powered mobility vehicles, booking essential

Other features A sensory trail – developed for the gardens available at reception

Murlough National Nature Reserve

Keel Point, Dundrum, County Down BT33 0NQ

T 028 4375 1467 E murlough@nationaltrust.org.uk

An extraordinarily beautiful dune landscape

Note There is a network of paths through the dunes, woodland and heath

Parking car park is level with a grass surface. The best views of the beach and dunes are from the boardwalk, rather than the car park

Accessible toilet in main car park

Grounds The boardwalk has a flat wooden surface and leads from the car park to the beach. The boardwalk is not classed as an ability trail as there are a few steeper sections across the dunes, before you reach the beach, but it provides a stable and relatively even route through the soft sands towards the beach. Surfaces and gradients are naturally varied

Patterson's Spade Mill

751 Antrim Road, Templepatrick, County Antrim BT39 0AP

T 028 9443 3619 E pattersons@nationaltrust.org.uk

The last working water-driven spade mill in daily use in the British Isles

 Building   Grounds

Parking designated parking 50 yards. Drop-off point

Accessible toilet adjacent to reception

Building Ramped entrance. 1 wheelchair. Ground floor accessible. Audiovisual/video

Grounds Loose gravel paths, slopes, partly accessible

Other features A fantastic visit: water driven trip hammer with two men making spades by hand. Lots of noise, heat and activity and numerous things to handle. Colin Dawson is the Spademaker and contact

Portstewart Strand

118 Strand Road, Portstewart, County Londonderry BT55 7PG

T 028 7083 6396 E portstewart@nationaltrust.org.uk

Miles of golden sand

 Beach

Parking is allowed on the beach itself

Accessible toilet beside Visitor Centre

Building Environmentally friendly visitor centre housing a beach shop

Grounds Footpath and road to beach. Sand once off the footpath

Rowallane Garden

Saintfield, County Down BT24 7JA

T 028 9751 0131 F 028 9751 1242

E rowallane@nationaltrust.org.uk

A true plantsman's garden in an informal style – with trees, shrubs and plants from around the world

Parking separate parking area on gravel

Grounds Lower garden is partly accessible, gravel and grass paths, undulating terrain. 2 wheelchairs

Springhill

20 Springhill Road, Moneymore, Magherafelt,
County Londonderry BT45 7NQ

T 028 8674 8210 E springhill@nationaltrust.org.uk

Pretty 17th-century 'Plantation' home with a significant costume collection

Parking 2 drop-off points, one at Rear of house and another at the side of Costume Museum, ramp available

Accessible toilet in laundry garden near house

Building 4 steps to entrance. Alternative accessible entrance, at rear. 1 wheelchair. Ground floor accessible. Stairs to other floors

Other features A wide range of tactile experiences including 18th-century furniture, the 17th-century twisted yew stair banisters. Many things in the garden including herbs. The costume collection offers a selected range of costumes and textiles. Please contact Property Manager on 028 8674 8210, or for the Costume Collection Curator on 028 8674 7927

Strangford Lough

County Down

E strangford@nationaltrust.org.uk

Linked to the Irish Sea by a narrow channel this great sea lough is not only the most beautiful landscape but it is also of international importance

Parking there are a number accessible car parks around the lough

Accessible toilet toilets (including provision for disabled visitors) are available at the nearby National Trust properties of Mount Stewart and Castle Ward, in addition to a number of public facilities in towns and villages around the lough

Grounds The coast and countryside around Strangford Lough has varying degrees of accessibility. Please contact the warden if more detail is required

Wellbrook Beetling Mill

20 Wellbrook Road, Corkhill, Cookstown, County Tyrone BT80 9RY

T 028 8675 1735 F 028 8674 7889

E wellbrook@nationaltrust.org.uk

Working water-powered mill used in the manufacture of linen

Parking drop-off point

Accessible toilet at rear of mill, ramped entrance

Building Level entrance. Ground floor has steps. Many stairs with handrail to other floors. Guide available to talk to visitors

Grounds 1 accessible route, 1 route has steps and narrow paths

Other features Beetling was the final stage in the production of linen cloth and involved beating the cloth with beech hammers to flatten the fibres. At Wellbrook, the beetles are driven by a water wheel, and the noise generated by the hammering action is thunderous. There is much to explore, and visitors can experience and participate in each stage of the linen making process

